This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE STATE LIBRARIAN,
CONCORD, October 1, 1890.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives, State of New Hampshire:

In accordance with the statute making it my duty to lay before you a statement of the affairs of this department, together "with suggestions for the improvement of the library," I present for your earnest consideration the following report:

The conditions in which this library is now situated, as regards

are not only a hindrance to its growth and future prosperity, but are most destructive to its present usefulness and full of danger to permanent preservation, threatening destruction through the daily chances of fire, and bringing it through crowded volumes and racked bindings. These evils arise from the present attempt to confine a growing collection of books, such as naturally flows into the custody of a commonwealth, within a room which even for the very inception of a library could not be considered very commodious. The original shelving capacity of the present library was intended to be fifteen thousand volumes. Under the pressure of circumstances, this number has been largely increased. It is believed, after patient and searching experiment, that the last available spot into which a book can be forced has been found and utilized; consequently, the array of bookcases has now become an effectual barricade against ready and convenient reference rather than an aid to order and use. The requirements of a reference library structure are twofold. First, it must be a suitable storeroom for books, where they may be shelved in the readiest

to the library have been made by the trustees, consisting of publications pertaining to the history and statistics of the State, books relating to kindred and connected subjects elsewhere, of law report sets, and some of the most important of general current publications. Among the last, as of especial importance, may be mentioned Stevens's series of fac-similes of manuscripts relating to the American States during the Revolutionary period, four volumes of which have been received, others being in process of publication. The first-mentioned class of publications, so far as already in print, it is fast becoming impossible to obtain at any price. As to the others, any delay in purchase causes a disproportionate increase in cost. In view of the favorable chances now arising each year for the completion of library sets, I desire to recommend that the annual standing appropriation be maintained on its present basis at least. I would also recommend that the trustees be empowered to purchase, whenever the chances occur, independently of such appropriation, the volumes necessary to fill breaks in sets of and the English and Canadian reports. There is a general awakening among the various libraries throughout the country to the importance of this class of records, and, in the general competition that is setting in, it is wise to be among the first. When such sets are once completed, their maintenance will be very inexpensive, since the States are now more particular and thorough in their distribution of the same. The present cost of the English law reports complete is nineteen dollars and fifty cents per year. The current American law reports, with the exception of a few series, are donated by the respective States issuing them. This is almost universally the case with state laws and documents. It is thus evident that the law department of the library, when once perfected, will take care of itself with but trifling outlay.

It is the aim of the New Hampshire Historical Society

TO COLLECT THE MISCELLANEOUS MATTER

relating to the political, religious, biographical, and general history of the State ; for which reason the management of the state library previous to the present board, not deeming it good policy to cripple the meager resources of that time by a duplication of such miscellaneous matter, applied itself more particularly to building up a court library and library of legislative documents. During some periods of the past, the Historical Society has carried on this work of general collection effectively. However, it now conclusively appears that to have this work well and effectively done, without loss or interruption, it must be done by the State. At this period a few thousand dollars, yearly, spent by the State in the accomplishment of this special work, will prove of incalculable value to the future and rescue from loss a large mass of pamphlets and documents which bear important witness to the transactions of the past. Book collectors outside of the State are zealously picking up this matter and carrying it to foreign purchasers. The booksellers even of England and of Germany are gaining very complete collections of the publications relating to New Hampshire, so that in one way or another the local market is becoming exhausted. During the present year a copy of early Province Acts of New Hampshire found a private purchaser in New York. It was the only copy known to exist, and the price paid to a London collector was three hundred dollars. Such purchases are of course beyond the present appropriation of this library, but this is a matter which legislative action should speedily remedy by a generous provision for the purchase of this particular class of books wherever and whenever they may be found for sale.

As an important event in the interests of the State relating to libraries, as well as one that drew general notice and appreciative attention, the meeting of the

at Fabyans, N. H., September 9–13, should not pass without a few words here regarding it. This was the twelfth annual meeting of the association, held at various places in the United States and Canada, and was considered the most successful of any since its organization. Only four libraries of this State, two of these situated at the capital, were represented at the meeting ; but the many expressions elicited by the event from various parts of the State showed conclusively that interest in the matters to be transacted there was widespread. Examination of the results of the few years of the association's existence leads not only to conviction of the practical utility of its achievements, but gives an assurance of the vast importance of its aims to the future. Its purpose is the consideration and discussion of all the problems, great and little, which afflict the struggling library, and in becoming older it becomes each year stronger and abler to solve them. It seeks to promote all the larger questions of the theory of the library, the policy of the library, the relation of the library to State and individual, and descends thence through the entire scale of library economics to the minutiæ of technical detail. It collates experience and is fast transforming, through its influence, library-experiment into library-science.

Aside from the profit gained from a comparison of methods by a body of librarians and directors drawn from every part of the country, the association offers advantages of co-operation and combined power which, if carried to the ends they suggest, will open a new epoch in the history of the library world.

The New York State Legislature has adopted much that appears in the principles of the association, and has carried much of those precepts, with the added force of organic law, into her institutions, to admirable results. Hence, it seems particularly fitting at this time that in your proceedings the consideration of this matter should find a place. The gist of the plan, as embodied in the New York system, is that the libraries of the State be constituted a part of the public educational system, as the true "people's university." To this end, all the scattered local libraries, which otherwise are likely to pass a lingering existence, unconscious of their true mission and newest methods, are brought into one active, connected library-system, in which the state library assumes duties aand relations analogous to those of the state superintendent of public instruction in the common school system. An important step in pursuance of such a plan would be the establishment of a central agency which should act as a bureau of information and as a

for the collection and distribution of books and documents throughout the State, not necessarily involving any expense for the acquirement of books, but merely an authorized medium of circu-

1820. June, pp. (n. t. p.) 255-286.
November, pp. (n. t. p.) 287-372.

1821. June, pp. (n. t. p.) 373-403 and 19-42; pp. 19-42 an appendix and an index to Laws 1815-21; the nine pamphlets making a Vol. II. (Laws 1815-21), with pp. t. il. 403+42.

1822. June, pp. t. 3-62, 4 [2]. The title page is that of a Vol. III., and this session is the first to have a separate index.

1823. June, pp. t. 63-93, [2].

1824. Compiled Laws, Vol. II., 1815 to 1823, pp. 291.

1824. June, pp. (n. t. p.) 95-110.
June, pp. (n. t. p.) 1-16. The pages of the last two are word for word, line for line, and page for page the same except the numbering of pages; the publication of the compilation Vol. II. evidently suggesting a new volume of pamphlet laws.

November, pp. t. 17-48, [2]. This title is that of Vol. III., Laws passed since June 1, 1824, and is intended to be bound in front of the June session. The index with the November session includes the two sessions.

1825. June, pp. t. 53-87.

1826. June, pp. t. 85-151, [2].

1827. June, pp. t. 155-271.

1830. Revised Laws, pp. VII., 623.

1830. June, pp. t. 3-31, [1]. The Revised Laws, 1830, having appeared, a new series of pages is begun.
June, pp. t. 3-16, no index. This title page reads "Acts passed subsequent to June, 1829."

1831. June, pp. t. 17-47, [1]. These last two are sometimes found as one pamphlet without the 1831 title page, and with an index (p. [1]) to both sessions.

1832. June, pp. t. 49-66.
November, pp. t. 69-114.

1833. June, pp. t. 117-139, il.

STATISTICS RELATING TO PUBLIC LIBRARIES IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The accompanying table of statistics is based upon a report of the Commissioner of Education of the United States, printed in 1886. About thirty libraries are added to that list, and much of the other matter is brought down to date; while several libraries which have ceased to exist are dropped from the list. The names of librarians did not in any case appear in the report of the commissioner referred to above. These have been added from replies to circulars issued by the state librarian. The incompleteness of these returns illustrates the necessity, in order to make work in this line valuable, of an act of the Legislature authorizing some state agency to enforce returns regarding the same. The clerks of the several towns might be directed by law to make such yearly returns to the state library. But, in view of the difficulty of enforcement of the act which does exist, directing the clerks of towns, and of other corporations, to file their printed reports for each year in the state library (Pamphlet Laws, chap. 7, sects. 2 and 3), it is well to suggest that, if such new act be considered expedient, some adequate penalty for non-compliance therewith be made a part of it.

When, in the following table, the figures denoting the number of volumes are in Italics, the statistics are taken from reports collected at date. Otherwise, they are taken upon authority of the report of the United States Bureau of Education. In a few cases the name of the chairman of the board of library directors appears when that of the librarian could not be obtained. Corrections and additions to this list are desired. Address, State Library, Concord, N. H.

ASSOCIATION OF STATE LIBRARIANS

OFFICERS AND RESOLUTIONS.

ASSOCIATION OF STATE LIBRARIANS. — OFFICERS AND RESOLUTIONS.

OFFICERS.

Melvil Dewey, Albany, N. Y., President.

W. H. H. Taylor, St. Paul, Minnesota, Vice-President.

C. C. Pickett, librarian of the Chicago (Ill.) Law Institute, Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE ASSOCIATION OF STATE LIBRARIANS.

On State Legislation.

WHEREAS, The laws governing the libraries of the several States and Territories have been formed for each without regard to any other, or to any uniformity among them, and this diversity of legislation has resulted in many ways in great loss to said libraries, and has greatly retarded their growth and prevented the increase of their usefulness ; and

WHEREAS, The State of California has, by resolution of her Legislature, instructed her librarian to call a conference of the librarians of the several States and Territories for the purpose of securing the adoption of an approximately uniform system of laws, rules, and regulations for the government and control of such libraries ;

Now therefore, we, the librarians of the several States and Territories, in such conference assembled, Do Resolve :

1. That each State should provide for the maintenance of a state library, by creating a fund that should be continuous and not dependent upon annual or biennial appropriations.

2. That the salary of each state librarian should be made proportionate to the salaries paid other state officers in the same

State, and that tenure of office should be made dependent on efficiency solely, and not on changes of administration, political or otherwise.

3. That each State should provide by law for the speedy transmission, under the direction of the state librarian, to all state libraries and to foreign governments, of all public documents, reports, laws, transactions, etc., published by authority, and that these be addressed directly to the libraries.

4. That each State should provide by law,—

(a) That all books published under its authority be properly indexed by a uniform topical alphabet, preserving the same heads of reference from year to year;

(b) That the title pages of all statutes and journals of the Legislature show the dates of convening and final adjournment of the sessions;

(c) That law reports give the extreme dates of the decisions on the title pages, and the date of the rendition of each decision above the title of each case;

(d) That each volume of law reports contain a table of cases, plaintiff and defendant, and vice versa;

(e) That the name of the State, with year and number of the Legislature where practicable, be lettered on the back of every volume.

5. That each State provide for the proper cataloguing and indexing, under the direction of the state librarian, of all publications that have been or may be issued by authority of the State.

6. That each State provide for the preparation and publication of a list of the sessions of its Legislature, from the first session to date, stating the time of the convening and adjourning of each session.

7. That each State provide for the proper exchange and disposition of duplicate books.

8. That the governor of each State and Territory be respectfully requested to submit the foregoing resolutions to its Legislature, and to urge upon it the adoption of the laws necessary to carry out the reforms therein recommended, and also to impress upon it the propriety of adopting memorials to Congress in favor of the federal legislation hereinafter suggested.

On National Legislation.

WHEREAS, The national government has thus far not given to the state and territorial libraries the aid and assistance which it is desirable should be given, therefore be it

Resolved, That Congress should provide, —

1. For free transportation by mail of books and all printed matter between state libraries.

2. By international arrangement for free transportation of books and other printed matter between state libraries and departments of foreign governments.

3. For a lower rate of postage on books.

4. That the privilege now enjoyed by the library of Congress, and by societies, colleges, and schools, in the exemption of books from import duties, should be extended to state libraries.

Resolved, That the President of the United States be respectfully requested to bring these matters to the attention of Congress.
